BIOGRAPH IMP Great Northern
The Thread of Destiny A story of the old Southwest
There is always a fascination in scenes of a Latin-American type, and in this Biography subject are shown a succession of southern California views that are decidedly picturesque, at the same time unfolding a most interesting story of the lands of the old Missions. The orphan girl of San Gabriel meets and is attracted by a Spanish stranger. The Spaniard later is falsely accused of cheating at cards, and would have suffered lynching had it not been for the girls' rescue, who not only saves his life but yields to his pleading and becomes his bride. The last scene shows them leaving the old mission at twilight after the old priest has made them one.

The Debt Repaid Melies Indian Drama
A Western picture graphically showing what it cost to settle this country, of the continuous warfare and the daily struggle which menaced every settler's home. A splendid Indian story.

The Wings of Love Vitagraph
A thrilling story set in quaint Dutch scenery. The novel stage setting increases the attractiveness of the picture and the acting is the Vitagraph kind.
His Wife's Testimony Urban
A strong bit of drama, with good acting and a well sustained story.

LIGHTNING BOLT FROM CLEAR SKY

Barn on Farm of Jacob E. Sharretts Struck by Lightning from Cloudless Portion of Sky. Mr. Sharretts' Brother Stunned.

A "cold stroke" of lightning from an almost entirely clear sky struck the barn of Jacob E. Sharretts near Barlow on Tuesday afternoon, did a little damage there and stunned John F. Sharretts who was nearby.

The unusual occurrence took place when there was no storm near. There were some clouds in the sky, but directly overhead there was an expanse of clear blue. Suddenly a blinding flash came from the heavens and struck the lightning rod on the barn of Jacob E. Sharretts. Running down the rod, the glass bulbs were all broken and one piece of weather boarding was torn off.

John F. Sharretts, who lives close to his brother was picking cherries on a tree not far from the barn when the sudden flash came. His left leg was badly affected and for several hours he was unable to do any work. He was in town this morning, however, and says that he is all right again.

The lightning was accompanied by a terrific clap of thunder and all of the people in that vicinity were alarmed. There was no other damage done and no storm followed the unusual occurrence.

McSHERRYSTOWN

McSherrystown, June 22—Miss Helen Johns, of Blue Gables, a student at Mt. St. Joseph's College, near Emmitsburg, Md., is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Johns, for the Summer vacation.

Miss Gertrude Wright has returned to her home at Libertytown, Md., after spending several weeks with Miss Gertrude Lilly, of Main street.

Catharine Devine, of York, is visiting friends in this place.

Miss Helen Bender, of Main street has been visiting Miss M. Helen Neely, at Fairfield.

Mrs. J. N. Fischer, of Philadelphia, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Sheely, Main street. Aug. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Miller, of South street, who is attending Mt. St. Mary's College, near Emmitsburg, is home for the Summer vacation.

Mrs. S. J. Mattingly, of Bedford, and Ligovri Mattingly, of Phoenix, Arizona, are visiting C. E. Mattingly and family, of North street. Mrs. Mattingly is the mother and Ligovri Mattingly the brother of Mr. Mattingly.

We have been informed that Rev. Fr. Cood, of Mt. St. Mary's who has been assisting Rev. W. V. Dailey at St. Mary's Church during the absence of Rev. L. Aug. Reudter, will join the latter rector in Europe, his place to be filled by Rev. Fr. McGovern also of Mt. St. Mary's.

The condition of John A. Poist, the well-known cigar manufacturer, who has been dangerously ill for several weeks, remains unchanged. An additional professional nurse from Baltimore has been secured, and the patient is being given every possible attention by the attending physician and two trained nurses.

The McSherrystown & Hanover Turnpike Company has the thanks of residents along Main street for a consignment of stone, which has displaced the mud on that thoroughfare.

The parochial schools enjoyed an outing at Witmer's Park Tuesday. The Sisters of St. Joseph arranged a number of amusements for the young folk.

YOUTHFUL JOY RIDE

Roy Eltz, the 12 year old son of John Eltz, of McSherrystown, is confined to his home with injuries sustained while trespassing on the track of the new railway extension near that town. A gang of youngsters placed the rail car on the track on Sunday evening and proceeded to indulge in a "joy ride" over the new road. Young Eltz in some manner fell from the car while in motion, and was dragged some distance over the ties. He was removed to his home and Dr. Geo. L. Rice summoned, who found a contusion of the right side, with a torn tendon of the right leg.

FUNERAL POSTPONED

The body of Charles Lentz did not arrive on the noon train but is expected this evening at 6.45. The funeral has been postponed until tomorrow.

LOST: on Baltimore street, Saturday night, number 61-2 lady's shoes. Lost between Wabash Hotel and 326 Baltimore street. If found return to Wabash Hotel or 326 Baltimore street.

WANTED: dishwasher and woman for kitchen work. Apply at once Wabash Hotel.

15 YEAR OLD GIRL ELOPES

McSherrystown Girl and Friend from Hanover Run away with Two Theatrical Men and are Married.

Misses Stella Wildasin, of Hanover, and Genevieve Rider, of McSherrystown, neither of whom are sixteen years of age, eloped with two vaudeville actors, Richard Schultz, twenty-three years old, and Benjamin Berg, twenty-one years of age, and were married. The quartette were arrested Tuesday in Baltimore, where they had been traced by the mother of the Wildasin girl.

Schultz and Berg are partners and last week they played at Hanover. There they met the two girls, one fourteen and the other fifteen years of age.

From acquaintanceship there ripened love and then came the proposals of the men. The girls were friends and they concluded that it would be well to trust their lives and happiness to the partners, so the four left Hanover together Saturday night.

The youthful elopers were astonished when they were arrested Tuesday. Mrs. Wildasin said she would settle with her daughter when she got her home.

"But, I won't go home. I want to be with my husband," exclaimed little Mrs. Schultz between her tears.

When the police lieutenant asked the girls their ages, Mrs. Schultz said that she was fourteen, while Mrs. Berg said that she was fifteen.

The child brides, it is said, wept bitterly when they were compelled to part with their husbands who were locked up for a hearing.

ABBOTTSTOWN

Abbottstown, June 22—J. A. Kinne-man transacted business in York Monday.

Albert Rowe, of Baltimore, was the guest of Cornelius Shue the past week.

Miss Nina Gitt, of York, was a visitor to our town this week.

John Fissell, of Berwick township, had a chick with four perfect legs. Unfortunately it lived but a week.

J. D. Berkheimer, wife and son Russell, of York were visitors to our town Saturday.

Della Nagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Nagle, is spending some time with her aunts, Misses Sophia and Dora Nagle at Tyrone.

Granville Nickey and wife, of Hanover, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Nickey Sunday.

The Berwick township school board elected teachers for their schools last Friday evening, as follows: Walnut Grove, Howard Danner; Green Spring, S. A. Nagle; Beaver Creek, John Herman.

Miss Elsie Eisenhart returned home from Patton where she was engaged in teaching last winter.

George E. Spangler raised a potato in his garden this spring which measured 10 1/2 x 13 inches in circumference, and J. J. Wolf a radish which weighed 3 pounds.

Henry Wolf has been confined to the house the past week suffering with rheumatism.

DENNIS WEIGLE

Dennis Weigle died Friday morning, June 10th, in Denver, Colorado, after an illness of about two years from consumption. Mr. Weigle who was about 26 years old, was the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Weigle, of near Heidlersburg.

He is survived by his parents and the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. John Brame, of near Heidlersburg; Mrs. Milton Brame, of York Springs; Grace, Edith and Ruth, Walter, Paul, Fred, Edith and Harry at home.

The funeral took place Friday afternoon, June 17th, upon the arrival of the noon train at Biglerville. Interment in Biglerville cemetery, Rev. D. F. Koser, of Arendtsville officiated.

FREDERICK KENNEDY

Heidlersburg, June 22—Freddie, the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy, died on Monday morning, after a short illness from typhoid fever. On March 21st Mr. Kennedy buried one of his children and just three months to the day he buried the second.

Funeral Tuesday afternoon. Interment in the Evergreen cemetery of this place.

ADAMS CROPS EXCEL OTHERS

Neighboring Counties Fail to Report Crops Such as are Promised in Adams County. Franklin County Man Surprised here.

That Adams County crops are exceptionally good for this section of the state is declared by those who are well acquainted with conditions in surrounding counties.

A Franklin county man was a Gettysburg visitor on Tuesday and when told about the condition of crops in certain sections of Adams County looked decidedly incredulous. He was told to visit the sections named and report on his return to town whether or not he had been misled. When he came back he declared:

"Well, I wouldn't have believed your crops could be so fine. We can show nothing like it in Franklin county and you are 'way ahead.'"

The local farmers are progressive as ever and going straight ahead. Rev. Albert Hollinger brought to this office two stalks of oats measuring 58 inches in length and they are not yet fully developed. He has a fine field and a large portion is still full while it has not yet reached its full growth. Other places in the county are reporting similar success.

As soon as good, hot, dry weather comes along our rural friends will be in the fields for the time for their summer work is rapidly coming along and all are anxious to get out among the "hay and clover" to get things moving towards the barn.

KINGSDALE

Kingsdale, June 22—Charles Coffman, of near the Gettysburg pike, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Lydia Coffman.

Roy Bowers, of York, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Fink, Littlestown, spent Sunday with J. E. Bowers and family.

George F. Krug has improved the Kingsdale canning factory by putting in a new Fairbank's scales.

There will be Children's Day services held at St. John's Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bowman and daughter, Ethel, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Felix Florence, near Bethel Church.

Newton Harner and family spent Sunday with John Valentine and family, near White Hall.

Charles Rohrbach and family, of Littlestown, spent Sunday with Joseph King and family.

Messrs. Milton Boose and Elmer Mayers, of near Hawn's mill, spent Sunday with Joseph Wolf and family.

Samuel Horman and family, of near Bethel Church, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Horman.

J. B. King and wife spent Sunday in Gettysburg.

THIRTY MINISTERS AT FUNERAL

Littlestown, June 22—The funeral of Rev. A. A. Parr was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Paul's Lutheran church, of which the deceased was a member years ago. Flowers and designs of various kinds were in profusion. Interment was made in the local cemetery.

Rev. Dr. E. D. Weigle, of Mechanicsburg, preached the funeral sermon on the text—II Tim. 4: 7, "I have kept the Faith," the text being a request of the deceased. Rev. Dr. A. G. Fastnacht, of Dover, read the Scripture lesson, while prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Weidley, of Washington, D. C. There were at least thirty Lutheran ministers present at the funeral.

PROGRESS ON TROLLEY

A number of workmen from Wrightsville are now quarrying in the Smith quarry, near McSherrystown, where the stone for the ballasting of the Conewago extension of the Street Railway is being quarried. The grading of the extension is now nearly completed and the trackmen and linemen are making good progress. The roadbed is already ballasted for some little distance.

BLUE STOCKINGS LOSE BALL GAME

Presbyterian Base Ball Team beaten by Reformed Sunday School Nine in Interesting and Exciting Extra Inning Game.

In one of the most interesting and exciting games of base ball played on Nixon Field this year the Reformed nine defeated the Presbyterian team on Tuesday evening by the score of 4 to 3. The games in the Sunday School series are supposed to be seven inning affairs but Tuesday evening it was necessary to play two extra innings to decide the contest.

To the winners belongs the credit of pulling out a victory after defeat seemed absolutely certain. Good base running and some timely hitting brought in the needed runs while Appler, whose pitching was decidedly the feature of the game, held the blue stockings safe until his team-mates could get around the bases.

In the first inning the Presbyterians scored two runs and the Reformed one. The Presbyterians added another in the third and their opponents seemed unable to make any headway. A bad throw got a man on second for them in the sixth, however, and a little batting activity resulted in two runs. In the eighth the Reformed had three on base and none out but failed to score. In their half of the eighth the Presbyterians had a man on third, only one out and McAllister to bat, but, they could not score. The necessary run came in for the Reformed in the ninth. Appler struck out fifteen men during the game, five in two innings. Homan made a very pretty catch in short left field. The lineup:

Reformed: Harner c, Appler p, Rupp 1b, Kandlehart 2b, Swepe ss, Kandlehart 3b, Martin and Myers rf, McClean cf, Homan lf.
Presbyterian: McClellan c, Cashman p, Allison 1b, Brown 2b, McAllister ss, Bushman 3b, McIlhenry rf, Felix cf, Cobean lf.

The standing of the teams in the league follows:

	Won	Lost	P. C.
St. James	1	0	1.000
Reformed	1	0	1.000
Methodist	0	0	.000
Catholic	0	0	.000
Presbyterian	0	1	.000
College	0	1	.000

BIG PEACH CROP

Nearby Maryland fruit growers report that the June drop is relieving the peach orchards of a portion of the burden of green fruit that will be materially helpful in the development and ripening of fruit remaining on the trees. While the drop is reported to be heavy, fruit men say that this is all the better for the trees and the fruit, upon which they depend to bring them big profits this season. The crop of peaches, it is reported, will be unusually large, deducting the loss by the June drop, and larger and finer fruit will be produced and better prices maintained.

D. M. Wertz, the largest fruit grower in this section, has a force of 60 men thinning out his orchards, covering 10 acres, on which there are 9000 peach trees and the same number of apple trees. This will cost Mr. Wertz about $1800. All of the trees in his orchards indicate enormous crops. In the past three years Mr. Wertz's orchards have yielded him $17,000.

MEXICO ALARMED AT UPRISING

Appeals to United States to Protect Frontier.

CAVALRY IS PREPARED

Revolutionists Plan to Capture Naco and Customs Collector Flees—Soldiers Ordered to Scene.

El Paso, Tex., June 22.—That the Mexican government views seriously the threatened uprising in the state of Sonora was made evident when it became known that Mexico has appealed to the United States to protect its frontier.

Two troops of the Eighth cavalry at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., have orders, it is said, to move at the first notice of trouble.

Ambassador Not Troubled.

Washington, June 22.—The Mexican ambassador assured Secretary Knox personally that the report of serious revolutionary uprisings in northern Mexico was greatly exaggerated. He said that the disorders reported were only such as were incident to the average presidential election. The state department has given no fresh instructions for increasing the military control on this side of the border.

Customs Collector Flees.

Bisbee, Ariz., June 22.—The Mexican customs house and postoffice in Naco, Sonora, was guarded by Mexican customs guards, anticipating an attack from revolutionists. The Mexican customs collector came across the line to Naco, Ariz., bringing the customs house money, and went to the Mexican consul, whose house is being guarded by American deputy ex-sheriffs.

Mexican Consul Torrez, at Naco, Ariz., received information that an attack was planned on Naco, Sonora. The attacking party was alleged to be composed of Mexican revolutionists from both sides of the line. The plan was to seize the Mexican customs house and the postoffice.

The Mexican consul communicated with the City of Mexico and Mexican troops were ordered to Naco. All the ammunition and rifles in Naco, Ariz., were taken across the line by Mexican customs officials and every available man was armed and ready in case of an attack.

The deputy sheriffs at Naco, Ariz., telephoned to Bisbee and a posse left there for Naco. It was feared if an attack was made on the customs house in Sonora that trouble might spread to this side of the line. Mexican officials at Cananea have made several arrests the last few days of alleged revolutionists and sent them to Hermosillo.

Mexicans carrying arms and ammunition into Mexico have been caught between Naco and Cananea and sent to jail at Nogales.

CUT THROAT OF SON'S WIFE

Aged Man Then Attempted Suicide by Using Same Knife.

Easton, Pa., June 22.—Edward Derr, aged fifty-five years, cut the throat of his daughter-in-law and then his own at his home on West street, this city.

A woman witness says that the daughter-in-law told her that Derr had made an insulting remark to her, that when she threatened to tell her husband, Derr's son, the father went to the kitchen. He secured a butcher knife and committed the double deed.

Both are in the hospital, where it is said the man will pull through, but there are doubts as to the recovery of the woman.

Boat Capsized; Woman Drowns.

Utica, N. Y., June 22.—Mrs. Gertrude Griffin was drowned in Oneida lake when a wave struck the boat in which she was rowing with William Dunn, Jr., of Sylvan Beach. When the boat capsized Dunn tried to rescue the woman, but his hold slipped after he had clung to her fifteen minutes, and she disappeared in thirty feet of water.

Sugar Trust Treasurer Resigns.

New York, June 22.—Arthur Donner has resigned as treasurer of the American Sugar Refining company, an office which he has held since 1899.

Lumps on Horses' Legs.

On the appearance of any lump about the legs of a horse it should be bathed diligently with water as hot as can be borne. What might develop into a spavin may sometimes in this way be checked at the start.

TIRE OF DARNING SOCKS.

Margaret Illington, Who Will Once More Face the Footlights.

TIRES OF HOME LIFE

Margaret Illington, After Craving For Sock Darning, Returning to Stage.

New York, June 22.—Margaret Illington, the former actress who, when she divorced Daniel Frohman and became the wife of Edward J. Bowes, declared stage life was abnormal and that she craved for sock darning, domesticity and children, has suddenly decided that darning socks is not what it is cracked up to be, and as no children have been born of the second union, she will become an actress again.

The announcement was made that Miss Illington would open in Denver in August and play an extended tour. Edward Ellsner, it is said, will be the producer of the play as well as be Miss Illington's manager.

FIND WOMAN DEAD; JEWELRY MISSING

Mystery in Suicide in New York Hotel.

New York, June 22.—Mrs. Mary A. Hawes, a well-to-do woman of Bridgeport, Conn., was found shot to death in her room at a Park avenue hotel.

A magazine revolver, with which Mrs. Hawes was believed to have thrice shot herself, was found beside the body, but there was no trace of $5000 in jewelry and valuables and documents of considerable worth that she was reported to have had in her possession when she left Bridgeport, supposedly bound for New Haven on business.

The police professed ignorance of the details of the case, declaring that it was in the hands of Coroner Holtzhauser. The latter had nothing to say regarding the tragedy, and an air of mystery enveloped it. Although the case has from the first been handled by the authorities as one of suicide, Mrs. Hawes' son, F. W. Hawes, who arrived from Bridgeport and took charge of the body, said that he could assign no reason why his mother should have wished to end her life.

A DOUBLE HANGING

Two Murderers, Cousins, Put to Death in Lancaster.

Lancaster, Pa., June 22.—Walter W. Aston and his cousin, Ben Aston, aged twenty-four and forty-four years respectively, of Pequea township, were hanged in the county jail for the murder of Albert Hallman, an aged farmer of that township on the night of Jan. 31, 1909.

Paul Fornwalt, twenty years old, was convicted and sent to prison for a long term for complicity in the murder, and Jacob L. Hinsey, a Martinville, hotelkeeper, accused by the other three of planning the robbery of Hallman's house, in which several thousand dollars were found hidden after the murder, was acquitted.

The murderers were masked and Walter Aston killed Hallman by a shot from a revolver and shot and seriously wounded a visitor, Amos Krel-der. A third shot, fired at Mrs. Martin Cramer, went wild. The murderers fled without any plunder. The Aston and Fornwalt confessed after their arrest.

In fifteen minutes both men were pronounced dead by strangulation. Both made brief addresses on the scaffold, declaring no killing was intended. Both men recently professed conversion and the trap was sprung as the priest was beginning his offices for the dying.

JEFF-JOHNSON MILL GOES TO RENO, NEV.

Town Will Build Arena and Pay License Fee.

Reno, Nev., June 22.—The battle to decide the heavyweight championship of the world will be fought by Johnson and Jeffries in Reno on July 4.

This was decided and Tex Rickard, the promoter, immediately issued a public statement to that effect.

Accessibility to the traveling public, climate, hotel and general business conditions swayed the promoter in making his choice. The general advantages of Reno more than offset the $120,000 guarantee offered by Goldfield. Rickard concluded, and he settled on the bigger town.

The choice of Reno will be popular with both the public and the fighters. It saves the twelve-hour ride over the scorching desert that holding it in Goldfield would necessitate and gives a considerably lower temperature for the men to battle under.

Reno went mad when the announcement was made, and hotel and business men are planning the most elaborate arrangements ever made for the entertainment of ring pugilists.

In order to get the battle Reno has pledged itself to construct the arena, pay $1000 license fee and furnish the site.

Tex Rickard practically assured this city of the contest if it met the stipulations. There was a mass meeting of all representative business men of Reno, at which the requirements were met.

A REWARD

It Was Not For Timidity

By HARRY C. ERNST

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

I arose after a night's journey in a sleeping car, made my toilet in the wash room at the end of the car, and when I returned to my berth it was made up. I found there the occupant of the upper berth, a sleek looking gentleman, well dressed and apparently prosperous, but with an anxious expression on his face that he could not conceal. He seemed to find it difficult to sit still and kept furtively looking about him as though he expected some one to pounce upon him.

We were entering Chicago and before reaching the terminal stopped at a suburban station. By this time my section mate looked so frightened that he was entirely unable to conceal his feelings. Standing up, he cast a glance out the window, hesitated, then, seizing his suit case, hurried from the train.

We had no sooner started again than, casting a glance at my own suit case, which had stood on the floor beside that of the departed passenger, I noticed that my name did not appear on its end. I quickly examined the other end, but it was not there either. I knew that my suit case bore my name and my city, so I at once made up my mind that the man who had occupied the other berth had taken mine instead of his own. I took out my key to see if I could open the one remaining, but it did not fit.

It struck me that there was something wrong with the man who had exchanged suit cases. Supposing he were a fugitive from justice, if I were found with his baggage I might be mistaken for him and get into trouble. It would be impossible for me to reach him and inform him of his mistake. I must go on to the depot without my suit case. He would discover my name and address on it, and since my residence was in Chicago he would, if honest, drop me a line through the postoffice.

But what should I do with his suit case? Did I not suspect him I would take it with me and return it to him when he returned alone. As it was, I dreaded to be found with it in my possession.

There was a young man sitting in the section opposite me. He looked rather seedy and melancholy. Beside him was a suit case. Just before entering the station he went to the other end of the car. Taking advantage of his absence, I changed suit cases with him. When he returned, since we were under cover of the station, the car was quite dark. He picked up the suit case I had placed on his seat and went out with it among the throng of passengers.

I waited patiently, expecting every day to receive a note from the man who had my suit case. I couldn't address him, for there was no name on the suit case I had taken. I received no communication and finally gave up expecting any. I determined to open the suit case I had in my possession to see if I could find anything inside indicating to whom it belonged.

Forcing the lock, I found within pieces of linen clothing, a paper novel and a few letters. The latter were not in envelopes bearing an address, in order to discover if there was anything in them to give me the information I wished, I read them. They were from a girl who was very unhappy at her lover leaving her to go to Chicago to seek his fortune. By mutual consent they had given up all hope of a union because the lover was poor and they couldn't afford to marry. I had gained this information before I came to the words, "I shall send your letters to No. — street."

I knew this was a Chicago street. Here was where I wanted. I wrote a note to the young man stating that (by mistake) he had taken my suit case and if he had mine I would like to exchange with him.

I received no reply for some weeks; then I got a letter containing some remarkable information—information that made me regret my timidity of being mistaken for a criminal. Indeed, I no sooner read the words that I desired to "kick" myself all over the three "sides" that compose Chicago.

The young man told me that he had opened the suit case and in it had found a package of bank bills to the amount of $90,000. Seeing in newspaper telegraphic news from an eastern city of a bank robbery, he had communicated with the officers of the bank, returned the money and had received a reward of $9,000 for doing so. Mean while the police had got on the track of the robber, who had been the bank's paying teller, and he had been arrested. The young man added that it was supposed the guilty party had purposely changed suit cases with him, not daring to face the police of Chicago, who might be watching for him. He wound up by apologizing for his long silence on the ground that he had been east to secure his reward and had brought back a wife with him.

So I had turned over $90,000 of stolen money to another, enabling him to reap $9,000 reward. But I had much consolation in the fact that I had been the means of uniting a pair of lovers who had given each other up. I met the young man and his wife afterward. They were making a fortune out of that reward.

While this young man made a clean $9,000 out of the operation, I lost my baggage, which contained a new $100 evening suit, with several valuable toilet articles.

BABY'S SCALP ALL CRUSTED OVER

With Eczema That Broke Out when but Three Months Old—Burned and Itched So She Could Not Sleep—Chance of Cure Seemed Slight.

CURE BY CUTICURA EASY AND COMPLETE

"Our little daughter, when three months old, began to break out on the head and we had the best doctors to treat her, but they did not do her any good. They said she had eczema. Her eyes became crossed from the disease and her scalp was a solid scale all over. We had about given up all hopes when we read an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies. We at once got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and followed directions carefully. After the first dose of the Cuticura Resolvent, we used the Cuticura Soap freely and applied the Cuticura Ointment. Then she began to improve rapidly and in two weeks the scale came off her head and new hair began to grow. In a very short time she was well. Her eyes were perfectly straight when she recovered from any disease. She suffered with burning and itching and hard, scaly, dandruff-looking scales all over her head and in places on her body. We used no other treatments after we found out that the Cuticura Remedies would do for her. J. Fish and Ella M. Fish, Mt. Vernon, Ky., Oct. 12, 1909."

For preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair and hands; for eczema, rashes, itching and chafing and for the prevention of the same; as well as for the sanative, antiseptic cleansing of ulcerated, inflamed mucous surfaces and other uses which readily suggest themselves to women, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are indispensable.

Cuticura Soap (25¢) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (25¢) to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (50¢), (or in the form of Chocolate Cuticura Tablets, 50¢) to Purify the Blood are sold throughout the world. TAFT WARS FOR POSTAL BANKS

Will Force Senate to Pass the Measure.

CALLS LEADERS TO TASK

Gives Up Trip to Yale to See Son Graduate and Starts His First Direct Clash With Senate.

Washington, June 22.—Abandoning a trip to New Haven to see his son graduated from Yale university and announcing that he would stay in Washington "all summer," if need be, President Taft began his first open fight with the United States senate.

The postal savings bank bill is the issue between the White House and the north wing of the capitol. The president has announced that the senate must adopt the house bill on this subject. Several insurgents and some of the regulars are strongly opposed to the house bill, and rumors of a filibuster against the measure filled the air.

It was because of these reports and the further prediction that the absence of the president from Washington would be taken advantage of to amend the bill in the senate so as to make its passage impossible in either branch that the president decided to remain at the White House from now until congress adjourned.

President Taft won the first phase of the fight when the bill was taken up in the senate.

The senate rejected, 24 to 34, Mr. Bacon's amendment to strike out the house provision for the withdrawal of funds from banks for the purpose of converting them into government bonds.

The fight over the postal savings bank bill has many angles. The most interesting, perhaps, is the fact that the measure, which the insurgents helped to frame and fully approved in the house, is roundly denounced by the insurgents in the senate.

President Taft has promised to stand by the house measure, and he believes that it was tacitly agreed that in return for the acceptance by the house of the senate statehood bill, that the senate would accept the house postal bank bill. The house carried out its part of the agreement, and now the president means to force the senate to do likewise.

He that as it may, the president and all of his advisers are agreed that the house bill is by far the better of the two. It was only by heroic measures that a bill was put through the house at all, and it is not believed that there would be one chance in a hundred of having an amended measure favorably acted upon.

Taft Holds the Whip Hand.

It is pretty generally admitted that the president holds the whip hand in the fight, and that as soon as a vote can be reached the senate will accept the house bill.

The river and harbors bill, containing some hundreds of items in which representatives and senators generally are interested, is still unsigned on the president's desk and subject to veto.

The public buildings bill, the "pork barrel," affecting nearly every state in the Union, is about to go through the senate, and then will have to receive executive approval before it becomes a law and makes available the appropriations, badly needed by some congressmen, to aid them in their campaigns for re-election.

Mr. Taft, it is said, is not unmindful of the influence of these two measures and of what congressmen would do to prevent him vetoing them.

President Taft "read the riot act" to a score of senators, including Senator Crane and Senator Lodge, the latter of whom was fresh from a sojourn with Colonel Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

He plainly told those who called at the White House that the postal savings bank pledge in the Republican platform must be kept, and kept promptly, otherwise congress would be forced to remain in session all summer, and until next December, if need be.

He showed plainly that he was not in sympathy with the senate bill, and believed that if conferees got hold of the legislation a bill might come out to which he would not want to attach his signature. Those who talked with the president left the White House with the impression that if congress does not pass the house postal savings bank bill, and adjourns without final action upon it, that the president may immediately issue a call for an extra session.

In the fear of this, it is likely that something will be done toward satisfying the demands of the president.

Several of the so-called "regular" Republicans in the senate, it was said, had been discovered off the reservation in the final "round up" on the postal savings bank bill. This phase of the situation has particularly annoyed the president.

Because of the revolt by "regulars," who some say are in a plot urged on by powerful interests, Mr. Taft flatly announced that senators voting against the house bill would be understood as simply opposing any system of postal banks at all, and therefore repudiating the party's platform pledge in this respect.

Last Testament of Woman Directs Pet Parrot Be Chloroformed.

Washington, June 22.—Not willing to have her pet parrot cared for by other hands than her own, Mrs. Otille Stock, mother of one of the victims of the Maine disaster in Havana harbor, directed in her will that after her death the bird be chloroformed. She also willed that all family pictures and letters belonging to her be interred with her body.

To her daughter Elizabeth she left $1, with the proviso that if the bank balance was not large enough to pay the bequest, the daughter should have two kitchen chairs, two pails, one broom and two wash basins.

The remaining household effects are left to the German Orphan asylum. Should the asylum not accept the articles they are to be sold and the proceeds added to the fund left for the purchase of a monument.

READING RAILWAY EQUALIZES WAGES

Salaries Increased Following Conference With Employees.

Reading, Pa., June 22.—The new schedule of wages agreed to between the adjustment committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors and General Manager Dice, of the Reading Railway company, was made public here.

It gives some of the men increases from 6 to 20 per cent, but only a few as high as the latter figure, according to the different classifications. Some get no advance. The result is a general equalization of wages.

The demands that have been asked by the brotherhoods are in line with those made on other eastern railroads. The Reading has never paid its employees as much as a number of the larger trunk lines, but the trainmen considered that conditions have changed during the past five years, and believe that the company is able to pay as much as the rest.

With the Philadelphia & Reading Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Pennsylvania making settlements with the trainmen, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors will have successfully completed the movement started last fall for better wages on all of the railroads east of Chicago and north of the Chesapeake & Ohio.

WILL NAME TENER FOR GOVERNOR

Republican State Convention Meets in Harrisburg.

PLANKS OF THE PLATFORM

Stands Pat on the Tariff and Strongly Endorses the Administration of President Taft and State Officials.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 22.—The Republican state convention met in the majestic theater this morning to nominate candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer and secretary of internal affairs.

Senator Penrose is in full charge of the gathering. Peace between Mayor Magee, of Pittsburgh, and the eastern party leaders was restored by a conference with the senator, and the following ticket is almost certain to be named before the convention adjourns tonight:

For governor—John K. Tener, of Charleroi.

For lieutenant governor—John M. Reynolds, of Bedford, or Fred A. Godcharles, of Northumberland.

For state treasurer—Charles F. Wright, of Susquehanna.

For secretary of internal affairs—Henry Houck, of Lebanon.

The platform "stands pat" on the tariff and commends very strongly the administration of President Taft as an administration under which great things have been accomplished. On state affairs the platform endorses the administration of Governor Stuart and points out that he was elected as a regular Republican against a coalition of all the elements opposed to the Republican party.

It points to the fact that all the pledges and promises in the platform on which Governor Stuart made his campaign have been carried out, and says this is good evidence as to what will be done by his successor who is pledged to carry on the work begun by Stuart.

Increased appropriations are demanded for institutions for the feeble and afflicted, and the utmost care and economy is called for in the building of these institutions and the business administration of their affairs.

The platform also points to the fact that the state is free from debt and is the only one of the great states in that position, and that this has been done without levying a dollar of direct tax on the people.

The good roads plank, which was written by Senator Sprout, is very progressive. It calls for continued and increased appropriations for the improvement of the roads of the commonwealth and recommends a system of improved main highways connecting all the counties with the centers of activity and trade, for greater encouragement of townships in care of their dirt roads, and expresses the hope that ways and means may be found to abolish the toll roads.

A plank pledges the next Republican state administration to a continuance of the prosecution of the capitol grafters and to leave no stone unturned to recover the money of which the commonwealth has been defrauded.

The crusade waged by Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, state commissioner of health, against tuberculosis is highly commended, and the protection of the food and water supplies of the state is demanded.

Former Speaker Henry F. Walton, of Philadelphia, will be elected chairman of the Republican state committee to succeed the late Colonel Wesley R. Andrews.

POSED AS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Sent to Jail For Making False Application For Pension.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 22.—For twenty-five years John Briggs has passed here as a veteran of the Civil War, and has been a member of Watrous and Bartlett posts of the G. A. R. He was sentenced to jail for three months by United States Judge George W. Ray, after pleading guilty to an indictment charging him with making false affidavit in an application for a pension. Briggs confessed in court that he did not serve in the Civil War. He was a small boy in '61, and he told the court that the spirit of the times got so firm a hold on his childish fancy that in later years he deduced himself into believing that he was a veteran.

Garfield's Son Expelled From School.

Watertown, Conn., June 22.—For decorating with their school colors, flags and evergreens the large granite soldiers' memorial shaft in the middle of the town, John Garfield, a senior, son of former Secretary of the Interior, James Garfield; Harry Crocker, San Francisco, and Frank Andrews and John Dunham, New York, have been expelled from Taft school by Horace Taft, brother of the president. Garfield was to have graduated next week and the three other boys are juniors.

Bill to Retire Moody Passed.

Washington, June 22.—The house bill authorizing the retirement of Justice Moody, of the supreme court, was passed by the senate without being sent to conference. The measure now goes to the president.

After setting out cabbage the plants require shallow, level cultivation until the crop matures. Too much cultivation cannot be given, and especially after every rain should the ground be thoroughly stirred. A fine tooth horse cultivator is one of the most satisfactory implements for this purpose. At the Maine experiment station mulching the plants with straw of similar material in a dry season tended to increase the size of the head. At the Nebraska station also a straw mulch was found very beneficial.—Orange Judd Farmer.

A CORRECTION.

In a late installment of these notes a paragraph on the pear blight recommended kerosene as a suitable disinfectant for tools used in removing blight infected portions of pear and apple trees. This was given on what was supposed to be good authority, but a series of articles put in print within a few days by Professor P. J. O'Gara, pear blight specialist of the department of agriculture and stationed for the past three years in the Rogue river valley, states that no disinfectant should be used but corrosive sublimate—mercuric chloride—which is a deadly poison when taken internally, but has no ill effect on cuts or bruises on the hands. He recommends that a solution as strong as 1-1000 should be used, made by dissolving three tablets in four ounces or half a pint of water. A small sponge kept moistened with the solution is the most convenient means of applying it to the tools to be disinfected. It is important to disinfect the pruning tools after each operation, as well as the wound in twig or limb.

WIND AND GASOLINE POWER.

The chief drawback with the windmill as a furnish of motor power for pumping and other purposes lies in the fact that too often when power is most needed it is likely to go on a strike for lack of a breeze to stir it.

While the gasoline engine has tantrums now and then, yet if worth anything to start with and handled discreetly it can usually be counted on to do business when needed, while it furnishes enough power to do many jobs too heavy for a windmill to handle. As a general thing a gasoline engine will prove useful and satisfactory quite directly in proportion to the price which the manufacturers ask for it, and this is a fact that it is well to keep in view when purchasing. Many a fellow buys a bargain counter gasoline engine only to excrete the day when he was so niggardly short-sighted.

The pulling up of a dead stalk of corn in the fall gives but a faint idea of the extent of the plant's root system. Careful investigations show that instead of the roots being eight or ten inches long, as one might readily suppose from superficial examination, they run from five to eight feet in the average hill of corn. A knowledge of this fact should not only be helpful to the corn grower, but also to the orchardist who may use corn as a between row crop among little trees. The corn draws largely on the moisture of the soil and if planted too close to the trees will consume that which they should have for their best development.

THE GETTYSBURG NATIONAL BANK'S NEW BUILDING

"The Bank of Gettysburg was chartered as a State Bank April 29, 1814.

It was to have a capital of 7,000 shares of stock, of the par value of $50 a share, making its capital stock when paid in full $350,000.00. Its first Board of Directors met May 26, 1814.

Alexander Cobean was elected the first President and John B. McPherson the first Cashier. The business of the bank was conducted in the house of the cashier from the day the bank opened until April, 1909.

Nov. 16, 1864, the stockholders voted to change from a State to a National Bank. The new association is the Gettysburg National Bank.

The capital stock is $145,150, or 2,903 shares of the par value of $50 a share.

The charter is dated Nov. 1864. The first election was held Jan. 10, 1865, and William McSherry, Henry Wirt, Wm. D. Himes, Wm. Young, James J. Wills, George Swope, Lewis M. Motter, Marcus Sampson and David Kendlehart were elected the first Board of Directors. George Swope was elected President and J. D. Carson, Cashier.

The new bank is built on the lot of ground on which was located the original bank building. The lot fronts 60 feet on York street and runs back to an alley 181½ feet. The ground was owned by John B. McPherson from 1814 to 1858, when it was purchased by the bank.

The new bank building is 45 feet front, 86 feet deep and 32 feet high to the apex. The exterior is built of Troy White Granite from New Hampshire. The front is four cut finish and the sides rock face.

The style is colonial, which is carried out in every detail, as also in its furnishings.

The building sets 7 feet back from the building line and 7 feet from the adjoining properties. The approach is by a portico. The portico is 25 feet long and 8 feet wide, and is formed by four shafts of white granite—monoliths having bases 2 feet 6 inches in diameter and being 22 feet 6 inches high and weighing 7 tons each. It is finished with a ceiling of portier paneled copper. The front doors are solid bronze—6 feet wide, 10 feet 6 inches high and weigh 500 pounds each.

There are two large windows in the front and four on each side 4 by 8 feet. The entrance to the building is through a vestibule of mahogany and glass—having two doors opening into the corridors. The front corridor is 9 feet 6 inches and the side corridors are 7 feet wide. The interior height of the ceiling is 22 feet. The working space of the bank is 27 by 35 feet.

The walls of the corridors have a base of Verde Antique Vermont green marble and wainscoting of 7 feet of Alabama Cream marble, with a cornice of 9 inches of South African mahogany. The floors are made of Grey Knoxville, Tennessee marble of one foot square blocks.

The exterior of the counters is made of the same marble as the side walls and supports the grill work, which is of brush brass and finished with opaline glass, mahogany pillars and cornice. The counters are of mahogany. The corridors are furnished with four glass endorsing desks, two solid mahogany writing tables and suitable chairs. There are four mahogany writing desks for the officials of the bank in the working space.

The Cashier's room is in the working space, is furnished handsomely and is 9 by 15 feet.

The President's room is near the Cashier's and well furnished. The rear part of the first floor has a gentlemen's waiting room—14 by 11 feet, clerks' room—8 by 11 feet and a Ladies' Reception Room 14 by 11 feet. These rooms are all handsomely furnished and each has its own toilet. On the same floor there are two coupon rooms, one public and one private telephone booth—with local and long distance phones.

The vault is 17 x 14 feet. It is made of concrete, 21 inches thick, lined with steel plates 1½ inches thick and covered on the exterior with Alabama cream marble. Each department is separate. The bank vault has a steel safe with double combination locks, requiring two persons to open it. The lock box department has 400 lock boxes which can only be opened when the owner of the box and the bank officials are both present with their keys. The owner is the only person who has access to the box and a private room is given him to examine his papers. The boxes are free to patrons of the bank and the owner retains the key in his care. The inner doors of the vault are securely locked and the outer doors are 7 inches thick, having time locks with the latest improvements. The vaults were built by the York Safe and Lock Company. They are a combination of security, art and science. To the right side of the vault a marble stairway leads to the second floor, over the rear of the bank.

On the second floor there is a committee room—15x16 feet, a hall, a coat room and the Directors' room—21x17 feet. The Board Room is beautifully furnished. The mahogany mantle and Directors' table are worth a visit. The balcony on the second floor gives a charming view of the corridors and working space. The electric and gas fixtures are in keeping with the building and furniture and are made of brush brass.

The floors of the working space and rooms are concrete, covered with maple.

The building, the furniture, the fixtures and everything about the bank impresses the visitor with its usefulness, solidity, harmony and good taste.

The officers take great pleasure in having everybody come to see their new bank building. The bank took possession of its new bank last Thursday and business began in the new building last Friday, June 10. You will be cordially welcomed and shown through the new building. It will be a pleasant visit. Come and see it.

The Building Committee was Wm. McSherry, Esq., Donald P. McPherson, Esq., and Walter H. O'Neal, M. D.

The architect was Herman Miller. W. H. Johns was the general contractor.

The officers of the bank are:—Wm. McSherry, President; Thos. G. Neely, Vice President; D. P. McPherson, Counsel; E. M. Bender, Cashier; J. W. Kendlehart, Teller and Bookkeeper; H. C. Picking, Discount Clerk; Irvin L. Taylor, Paying Teller; Chas. W. Stock, Receiving Teller; Reuben Rupp, Janitor.

The Directors are:—Wm. McSherry, Lawyer; John A. Swope, Physician; Thos. G. Neely, Gentleman; H. P. Bigham, Gentleman; Robert M. Wirt, Bank President; D. P. McPherson, Lawyer; N. C. Trout, Physician; C. L. Longsdorf, Bank President; Walter H. O'Neal, Physician.

GOING TO THE CIRCUS

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

Moses Fairman was visiting the Widow Hooper at least two nights a week with a view to matrimony. Just about this time the billposter for a circus appeared and pasted the roadside barns with the usual gaudy bills, and the excitement began.

Perkinsville was no circus town. It never had had one and didn't want one. Such things were looked upon as demoralizing in the extreme. The bills were hardly up when the parents began warning their children and the ministers had something to say from the pulpits. On one of his visits to the widow Moses Fairman expressed the hope that she would not even permit her cat to view the circus parade, and the next instant he was a surprised man.

"Why, I shall be a spectator myself," replied the widow. "Not only that, but I shall attend the circus both afternoon and evening. I shall expect you to escort me in the evening."

"W-h-a-t?" gasped Moses as he stared at her with open mouth. The widow repeated the words and said she was tickled to death that a circus was coming.

"But it's wicked! It's monstrous! You can't be in earnest!"

"I shall be there on a front seat." "But I won't go, and neither will any church member. You have heard what has been said about it. Why, you'd be turned out of the congregation as a black sheep. Mary, don't think of doing any such thing."

"Moses, I'm going to that circus, and that's flat!" replied the widow as she put her foot down. "I don't believe there's any more wickedness about it than at a spelling school. Why should there be?"

"But circus men swear and fight," protested Moses.

"So do lightning rod men and tin peddlers. I've heard some of the men around your mill swear."

"But circuses have a clown, and the clown—"

"And the clown he jokes and makes fun. Why shouldn't he?"

"Mary," solemnly said Moses, "if you go to that circus then all is over between us."

"All right, Moses; I'll be there."

Moses went straight from the house of the widow to that of his minister and told his story. It produced consternation. The widow's independence had been winked at, but here was a case of revolution, rebellion, defiance. It must be met and crushed in the bud. The hour was late, but the minister went to struggle with the rebel. She put her head out of her chamber window and after ascertaining his errand replied:

"I have been to Sunday school picnics of our church and seen selfishness, quarrelling and backbiting. It can be no worse at a circus, and I am going. Did you ever see a two horned rhinoceros?"

"N-no!" was the stammering reply. "Then by all means go and see one. It may be your only chance for the next twenty years. Yes, and there's a five legged calf and a dodo."

Next day the news was all over town, and the earth proceeded to rock. The widow had many callers at her house, and Moses had many at his mill. All were "again" the widow. It was decided that she must be put down. At first she was only determined. So much was said, however, that she got her mad up and announced that she would attend Thursday evening prayer meeting and announce her position. She was there, and the church was crowded. It was hoped that she intended to recede from her first position, but it was a vain hope. She took the floor to ask how many persons present had ever attended a circus. Five men signified that they had, and seven or eight more could have done so, but didn't.

The widow asked how they had been harmed—if it had led to profanity, drunkenness, wife beating and theft. All pleaded not guilty. Then she asked why it was more wicked to look at an elephant than an ox. No one answered. Then she asked why it was worse to listen to a clown's joke than to some of the stories told around the postoffice while waiting for the mail to arrive. No one answered. Then she asked why a woman shouldn't walk a tight rope or a rail fence if she wanted to? She had seen men walking over the bridge on the railing, and no one had raised a fuss about it. Women would jump through hoops at the circus. What of it? She knew a woman in Perkinsville who had crawled through a screen door when locked out.

The widow's best weapon was saved to the last. She had made a good case, but she clinched it by asking if any present would please point out in the Bible where Christian men and women were forbidden the circus any more than the paring bee, the corn-husking or the lasses candy pull. All heard, but no one complied, and Mrs. Hooper wrapped her toga about her and walked out.

The circus appeared on the date given. The widow was there, Moses was there, and the three or four people in town who weren't there were down with the mumps or measles. It was even said that the three ministers penetrated as far as the cages of the ostriches and the hyenas and that those who tried to figure up the increase of crime during the next year got lost in the maze before arriving at any startling results.

Perhaps there is no influence which tends to get the boys and girls started in the right path in taking up the work of outdoors and the home so much as a little appreciation bestowed now and then, even if the point should be strained a bit at times, for, after all, excellence of achievement in any case is a comparative and not an absolute matter. Appreciation will make a task a pleasure instead of drudgery work, which it so often degenerates into when only criticism is given.

GREAT RESULTS AND GOOD WORK CONTINUES

Root Juice Has Proved Its Great Merit to Many.

Many people here, as elsewhere, are no longer incredulous, they are simply amazed at the results obtained from Root Juice. When the remedy was first introduced to this community and so many were being benefited by a few doses, it was generally thought that the medicine would only give temporary relief, but as the time passes and many that were ailing are no longer complaining, but are advising their sick friends to try Root Juice, confidence in the great medicine is becoming positive. Root Juice makes so many remarkable cures by removing a few causes and giving nature a chance. It tones and heals the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys; it creates a healthy appetite, and by its toning action on the blood-making and blood-filtering organs, good, rich blood is made to nourish every weak part of the body. If your stomach, bowels, liver or kidneys are out of order, they will be pleased to tell you all about it at the People's drug store. Root Juice, $1 a bottle. It has proved all that is claimed for it.

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other so-called remedies but without avail, and I find that Cascarets relieve more in a day than all the others I have taken would in a year."

Similar to Asphalt Pavement, but of a More Resilient Character.

Revolution in highway construction is predicted by many road engineers, but many others believe the successful macadam method modified will be the only innovation. In that event the tar macadam method will surely be considered. A properly tarred road is similar to an asphalt pavement, but of a more resilient character. The stone is all bound together by the tar into a smooth, firm surface, which can be swept and washed in much the same manner as an asphalt pavement.

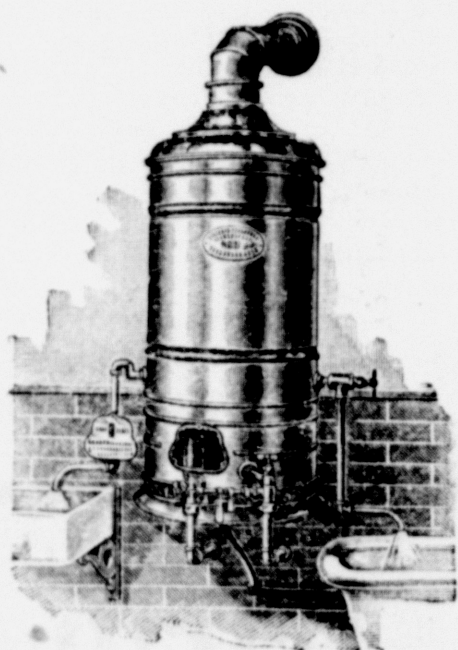

The main agencies which cause deterioration of tarred or oiled surfaces are heavy rain, frost and the decaying organic matter which accumulates on the surface of the road. So far as can be determined, one kind of road withstands the action of these agencies as well as the other. Water gas tar is used in connection with coal tar, but not to any great extent by itself. It has a greater power of penetration, and less of it is required, but it is not so lasting. It really is in a class by itself and occupies an intermediate position between the temporary and the permanent binders.

In some cases where a limited amount of money is available or where

USING ROLLER ON COAL TAR ROAD. (From Good Roads Magazine, New York.) For climatic reasons it is available to treat the road with the idea of its lasting only through one season water gas tar is expected to prove a valuable dust layer, and any extension of its use is thought to lie in this direction. The value of coal tar in the preservation of macadam roads and as a dust preventive is proved by the fact that in the majority of cases the life of a treated road has been materially lengthened, and by applying tar the complete rebuilding of many roads at an enormous expense has been avoided. A great drawback in the standardization of tar treatment is the impossibility of securing a uniform supply of coal tar. Coal tar is purely a by-product, and the processes by which it is derived are never run with reference to the quality of tar produced, but solely to obtain maximum yields of gas or coke.
